

Adobe® Acrobat® Connect™ Professional

Partner Quote Sheet

Greg Brophy

Director of Product Management, Conferencing and Collaboration Portfolio

Avaya

“Avaya is committed to providing collaboration solutions that help our customers work more efficiently, including integration between Meeting Exchange audio conferencing and Adobe Acrobat Connect Professional. We are pleased to partner with Adobe to offer our customers a high value collaboration solution with capabilities that we believe to be unique in the industry.”

Jim Ritchings

Vice President of Business Development

F5 Networks

“Enterprises are continually faced with the need to optimize communication and collaboration between employees, customers and suppliers. F5’s BIG-IP Application Delivery Networking Platform provides an enterprise-class foundation for Adobe Acrobat Connect Professional to deliver rich, real-time web communication and collaboration that is secure, reliable, and scalable. We are excited to continue our partnership with Adobe to offer comprehensive web communication solutions with intelligent networking that add value to enterprises by significantly increasing business efficiency and ROI.”

Rick Emery

Vice President of Business Development

Jabber, Inc.

“The integration of Acrobat Connect Professional with the Jabber Extensible Communications Platform (Jabber XCP) creates a powerful web conferencing, messaging, and presence solution for our customers. Pairing the interactive capabilities of Acrobat Connect Professional’s instant Personal Meeting Rooms with Jabber XCP’s open, interoperable presence and messaging infrastructure delivers a best-in-class solution for mission-critical business communications.”

Beau Ambur

CEO and Founder

Metaliq, Inc.

“Social and collaborative applications are among the newest and most exciting technologies coming to the Internet today. Metaliq utilizes Acrobat Connect Professional along with the Collaboration Builder SDK to empower these new rich experiences. Extending the capabilities of both our clients’ and partners’ solutions, like salesforce.com and Yahoo! Maps, into real-time group based collaborative experiences has been a great success.”

Joe Herman
SVP, Product Management and Strategic Alliances
Plateau Systems

“By providing pre-packaged integration between Adobe’s Acrobat Connect Professional web communications system and the Plateau Learning Management System, we are providing an industry-leading solution for students and instructors to interact, collaborate, launch, and conduct e-Learning online and in real-time – all through a single user interface. The partnership with Adobe has provided Plateau customers with a comprehensive virtual learning solution that delivers relevant training to their employees, customers and partners when and where they need it, resulting in significant workforce productivity and performance gains.”

David Guthrie
CTO
Premiere Global Conferencing

“The seamless integration of Acrobat Connect Professional with Premiere Global’s conferencing platform via the PremiereConnect API provides our worldwide users with an outstanding multi-media conferencing experience, extending our leadership in this vibrant and growing market. Premiere Global is committed to quality of service and continual innovation, and our partnership with Adobe furthers both goals by allowing us to deliver reliable converged conferencing services via Adobe’s Flash based architecture, to anyone with a PC and an Internet connection.”

Hartmut Scholl
CEO reflect AG

“reflect AG supports its global customers with infrastructure and services to encourage the sustainability of complex organisations based on new media. Acrobat Connect Professional represents a central component of our portfolio of web-based instruments because of low entrance barriers, convincing functionalities and interesting strategic perspectives. We believe that Acrobat Connect Professional is undoubtedly a top player in the webconferencing market and look forward to increasing the scope of our partnership with Adobe.”

Jon Zucker
Product Manager
SumTotal Systems

“SumTotal is excited about its partnership with Adobe, and with the announcement of Acrobat Connect Professional, we can offer the market a true best-of-breed enterprise eLearning and virtual classroom solution. By integrating Acrobat Connect Professional with the SumTotal® Enterprise Suite, training administrators and learners now have a simple, secure solution to create and run virtual, live and on-demand training events within our learning management system.”